LH 40000 - 49910	Exhibition Catalogues (here also literature on individual exhibitions) Note: catalogues of exhibitions devoted to an individual artist, are classified with the corresponding artist (and if there is a specific notation, they are shelved as catalogues raisonné). Exhibition catalogues are classified under the place of exhibition by the year of exhibition. If the year of exhibition is the same, for differentiation use the CSN of the exhibition name. Example: LH 46170.960 = catalogue of a exhibition in Munich in 1960, LH 46170.960 B3 = catalogue of another exhibition, which also took place in Munich in 1960. If according to the catalogue the exhibition took or takes place in various places, the catalogue is classified under the place which is named first. If it is not possible to identify the place of exhibition from the catalogue, the catalogue is classified under the first notation (= 40000) and the CSN of the author's or editor's name is added. Note: Place names are numbered consecutively with the notation of library catalogues on art history (LH 20000-29910). For other catalogues the same notation is used whereas only the first digit of the five-digit number changes.

Art Trade and Auction Catalogues

Note: here also literature on individual companies and auctions. The catalogues are classified by the toponyms of company locations or auction venues. Under the same place name, individual companies are put in alphabetical order by their name. If there are more catalogues of one company, they are put in chronological order by the year of the auction.

Note: place names are numbered consecutively with the notation of library catalogues on art history (LH 20000-29910). For other catalogues the same notation is used whereas only the first digit of the five-digit number changes.

LI Monographs on Artists

Artists are listed alphabetically by their name, they are not divided by country, epochs or art form. Apart from a few founded exceptions, name headings are based on Thieme-Becker's Allgemeinem Lexikon der bildenden Künstler von der Antike bis zur Gegenwart and Vollmer's Allgemeinem Lexikon der bildenden Künstler des 20. Jahrhunderts. As these works include all necessary references, these were not indicated in the following list. An 11-digit subject key is used to classify the literature on particularly important artists by subject groups.
